

Don't feel guilty about vibe coding. Make the code yours.

A learning layer for AI-generated code.

PRIVATE BETA

AI writes the code. Unvibe helps you understand it.

Your agent finished the feature. Could you explain it tomorrow?

Using AI is not the problem. Losing the thread of your own project is.

BEFORE

It works. You think.

- Unfamiliar abstractions
- Unexplained dependencies
- Possible failure points

AFTER UNVIBE

Context found.

- What changed
- Why it changed
- Files and concepts involved

From generated to genuinely understood.

Three steps. Then you keep building.

01

Select code

Choose the exact lines, file, or git change you want to understand.

02

Choose your level

Start plain, go deep, or switch level whenever the explanation misses.

03

Understand. Continue.

Ask a follow-up, test yourself, save the concept, and get back to the project.

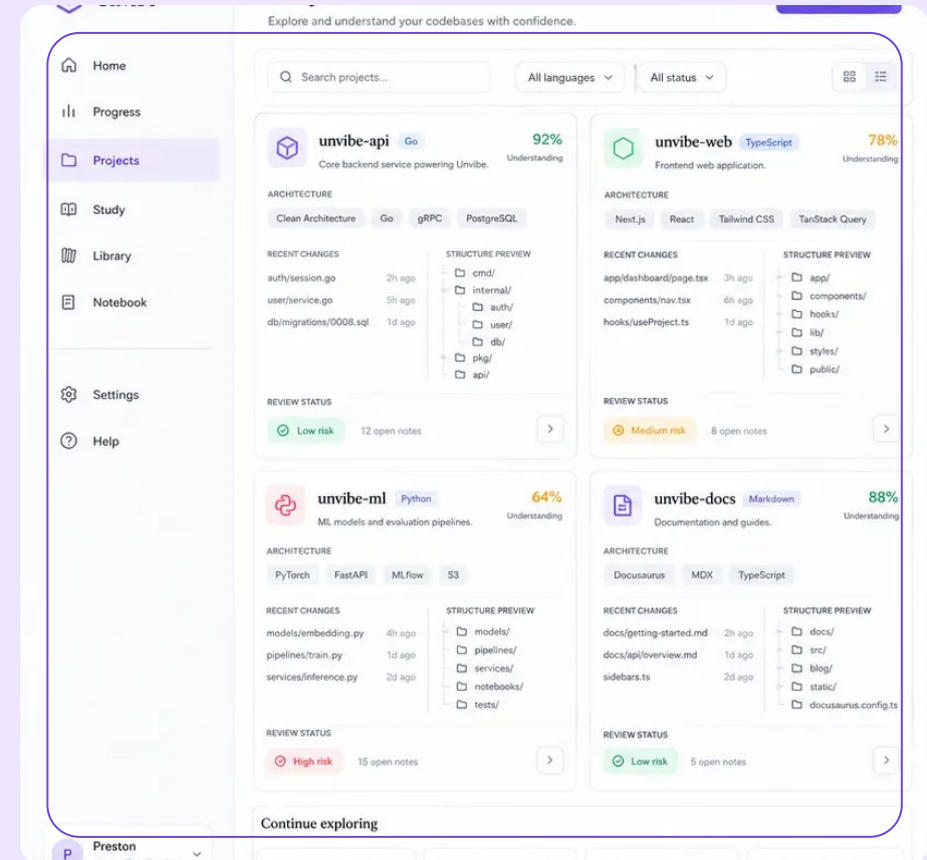

A line rarely makes sense by itself.

Unvibe moves outward from expression to architecture, then turns the missing context into something learnable.

LINE → FUNCTION → FILE → PROJECT

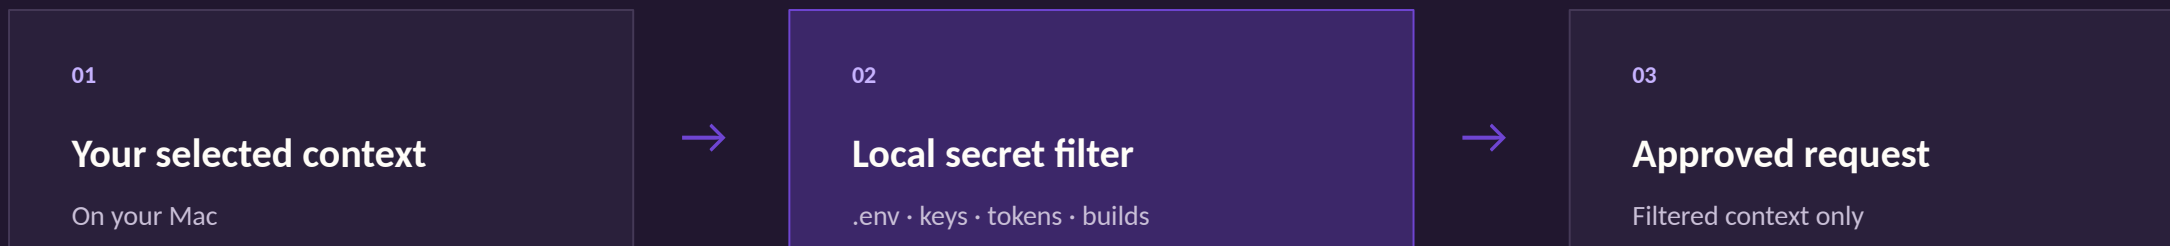

No generic tutorial can know the decisions inside your repository.

Your code deserves a careful boundary.

Unvibe filters likely secrets locally before approved context can be sent for an explanation.

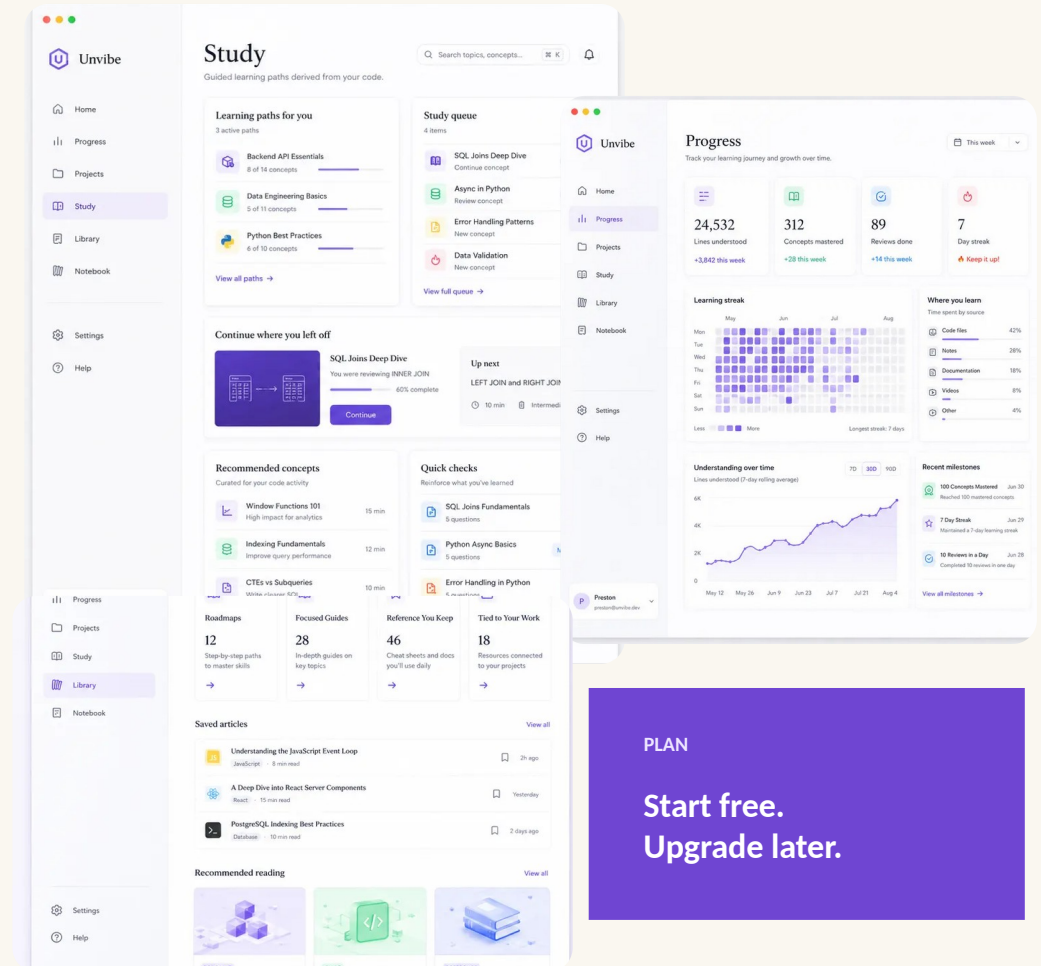

Five places to keep learning moving.

Every screen connects to real code reviews, explanations, and progress—not an invented course.
